

Dear D. P. Payling,

I am writing on the off-chance that you may have some information about my Paylings that could be related to Blanche Payling who lived in the St. Pancras area of London from 1891 on.

I am currently working as a Research Fellow at The University of Manchester bringing to light the story of Mary Neal, my great-great aunt who founded something called The Esperance Club in Cumberland Market from 1895 - 1914.

Blanche was one of her best dancers and became a popular teacher, travelling to Thaxted and elsewhere in the country as part of the Folk Revival.

If you believe you have any pieces of information about any paylines that might help me put this jigsaw puzzle together 3 generations later I would be most

● Grateful:

with many, many thanks,

Yours,

● Lucy Neal
